Murder accused wanted to 'finish off' mum-of-four

THE man accused of the horrific murder of Harlow mum-of-four Claire Parrish asked police to let him "finish her" as he was arrested in the room where he carried out the fatal attack, a court heard this week.

Former nightclub doorman Mark Golds (46), who lived with Ms Parrish at the couple's home in Copshall Close, has admitted killing his partner on July 15 last year but denies her murder on the grounds of diminished responsibility.

At Chelmsford Crown Court on Tuesday, PC Douglas Lyall told the jury of the struggle by police to arrest Golds once they had got into the bedroom where he had stabbed and beaten Ms Parrish to death.

He said the struggle went on for 10 minutes, during which time Golds told officers: "She's evil, I've killed her - the demon's gone."

star@hertsexnews.co.uk

PC Lyle added that Golds had then told police: "The * still alive. Let me finish her. The bread knife's still in the room."

Another officer at the scene, Sergeant Barry Booth, told the jury he had spoken to Golds - who he knew from his work as a doorman at Harlow nightclub Liberty's - a few days before the killing.

He said he had seen him at a BP petrol station in Southern Way, Harlow, and had a "normal" conversation with him.

But when he next saw Golds after the killing he was "shouting and aggressive", Sgt Booth told the court. "He became extremely violent and tried to bite officers. He needed leg restraints."

Under cross examination, Sgt Booth told the jury: "When we got into the room he was all quiet and then erupted into a barrage of abuse and violent behaviour."

Pathologist Dr Benjamin Swift told the court that Ms Parrish, pictured right, had bled to death from internal injuries sustained after being kicked or stamped on by Golds.

After detailing a catalogue of injuries including stab wounds, cuts, bruising and "combing" marks caused by a knife being passed over her skin, he said the mum-of-four had died from "overall blood loss".

"There were multiple incised wounds to the arms and hands - many from a serrated blade," said Dr Swift. "Although the wounds would have contributed to death as an overall result of blood loss they, by themselves, would not have been potentially fatal. There was significant internal abdominal haemorrhaging."

"There was a tear in the liver causing damage to a blood vessel, which caused internal bleeding. There was one litre of fresh blood in the abdominal cavity."

"The most common cause I've seen for that is where someone has been kicked or stamped on while on the ground."

Yesterday (Wednesday), Ms Parrish's grieving daughter told the court that Golds had confessed to being

Chef facing trial over knife attack

A CHEF accused of stabbing a man in an early morning attack outside a Harlow pub on Saturday has been remanded in custody following a court appearance on Monday.

Kamhung Lee (49), of Spring Hills, Harlow, will now face trial at Chelmsford Crown Court, with a preliminary hearing scheduled for June 25.

He is accused of inflicting grievous bodily harm with intent on 26-year-old Harlow man Perry Hill, who remains in a stable condition in hospital.

Lee also stands accused of possession of an offensive weapon - a knife - in a public place. He is yet to enter any pleas to the charges.

Attack victim Mr Hill is said to have suffered wounds to his stomach, liver and the top of a leg in the incident, which is alleged to have taken place in the car park of The Shark pub in Hobtoe Road at about 12.30am.

Detectives have appealed for any witnesses who were in the area at the time to contact them on 101.

violent towards his partner in the past.

Stevie Allen (21) claimed the defendant had told her: "I'm not going to tell you a lie, I've slapped her a few times."

Giving evidence, she added: "After the relationship had started, [my mum] gradually changed quite a lot. She wasn't so outgoing and didn't go out so much. I was rarely left to speak to her alone without him around."

"When I phoned her he would answer it and say 'anything you got to say you can say to me' or say she was busy and would call back later."

The court was also told that Golds had a previous history of violence, receiving a police caution in 2007 for assaulting his then-wife.

Detailing the defendant's medical history, prosecutor Andrew Jackson said Golds was described as having a "personality disorder".

He added that during police interviews, Golds had said: "I hear things and I see things and people talk to me. I live in fear of everything."

The hearing continues.

TRAGIC: Eystna Blunnie (above) was beaten to death by her partner Tony McLernon (inset)

Blunnie case review highlights CPS error

A HARLOW man jailed for life for murdering his heavily pregnant partner and causing the death of their unborn baby should have been prosecuted for assaulting his victim two months before he killed her, the Crown Prosecution Service has admitted.

Tony McLernon (24), of North Grove, kicked 20-year-old Eystna Blunnie to death in a brutal and unprovoked attack in Howard Way, Harlow, on June 27 last year.

But the assault may never have happened if the CPS had decided to prosecute McLernon two months before the fatal attack, when he was arrested for allegedly attempting to strangle Miss Blunnie.

Following a review of the decision, Chief Crown Prosecutor for the East of England Grace Ononiwu admitted the CPS had got it wrong.

"I have had two meetings with Mr and Mrs Blunnie to explain the background to the decision not to charge McLernon and to answer their questions, and I am now able to make a statement on the review," she said.

"I have confirmed to Mr and Mrs Blunnie that when the charging lawyer considered the papers from the police, if they had applied correctly the Code for Crown Prosecutors together with the CPS Policy on domestic violence and the aide-memoire, which aims to assist prosecutors with charging advice in domestic violence cases, then the rational decision would have been to authorise a charge.

"For this failure to authorise a charge in relation to the April 2012 incident, I have unreservedly apologised to Mr and Mrs Blunnie in person and in writing for the distress caused by this decision."

Ms Ononiwu said the service now planned to set up Violence Against Women Panels in the East of England to examine CPS decision-making in selected cases.

"Such panels are to be staffed by members of the public as well as lawyers and I have extended an invitation to Mr and Mrs Blunnie to join the panel," she explained.

"The East of England has the best conviction rate in the country for cases of domestic violence, but this case demonstrates the continued need to ever improve our handling and understanding of domestic violence."

SIR, One has to admire Aldi's persistence, if not their common sense. Their previous plans for a new store at The Stow were turned down partly on the basis of traffic flow problems. They had somehow not realised they were about to gridlock the First Avenue/Howard Way roundabout.

And their proposed new layout? Certainly different, but have they not noticed that the only traffic that could enter the site is from the Old Harlow direction along First Avenue? All others would either have to do a circuit through The Stow's narrow and windy road or, less likely, drive to the Mark Hall roundabout and back. One is a potentially dangerous option, the other wasteful.

I suggested to them last time (and again last month) after their survey of local opinion that an entrance off Howard Way and exit onto First Avenue would probably solve traffic issues.

There are several other good options. It's not exactly rocket science.

Need for a new store

SIR, I would like to offer a plea on behalf of the residents of Lattion Hall Close: we need a new Aldi desperately (Star, May 30).

The bus service here is atrocious. My neighbour, who has had a hip operation, waited an hour the other week until she could stand no longer. She had to come home and lie down.

There are 36 people living here all over 65. The majority of us have to have support to walk, using four-wheeled trolleys etc. When we return on the bus, the stop is placed where cars line the road so we are dropped off in the middle of the road, taking our life in our hands while trying to cross.

If Aldi opened we could walk down the cycle track; it would only be a short journey.

We have so little selection at The Stow. There is no fruit and veg shop which we need to keep healthy. So please, let Aldi open here.

I.L. Dixon
Lattion Hall Close, Harlow

Many will be grateful

SIR, Regarding the proposed new Aldi store, I do hope the bid will be successful.

I have a son who is bed-bound and I have to get him minded while I dash to the local shop in The Stow where there is so little to choose from. There is no question of me travelling to the town centre.

There are so many people in this area, including pensioners, who will be very grateful if Aldi is successful.

Soon we will have to empty bins ourselves

SIR, I just wanted to say how unhelpful our binmen have become. I remember a time when I used to give my binmen a gift at Christmas, but not anymore.

I cannot get over the fact they cannot walk 10 feet from the path to the wheeie bin to get them and insist they are brought to the edge of the path.

Today I forgot to take my bin to the magical edge. My daughter came home from college at lunchtime and saw the binmen in our street and noticed that ours had not been emptied.

She took the wheeie bin down the street to them and asked if they could empty it but was told 'sorry love, you're too late'.

I'm not sure why they would not empty it but I suppose the next thing we will have to do is empty them into the lorries ourselves.

I am not impressed. Bring back the binmen who actually cared.

Keep your dogs out of children's playgrounds

SIR, Last Bank Holiday Monday I took my three young children to the adventure playground in Harlow Town Park. I value this space as one that has, up until now, always been well respected, well looked after and well used by families.

It has always been understood that this is a dog-free area. Even though the sign indicating such outside has been spray painted over, it is generally common knowledge and is generally accepted that this is the expected standard.

Not so now. Five dogs were in there and although all were on leads, I saw three dogs straining at leashes in order to get to each other.

Feeling intimidated that the rights of dogs were being put before my children's safety and wellbeing, we left. I phoned the contact number as stated outside the playground and got an automated message apologising that Harlow Council could not take my call. The line then went dead.

I phoned the police and was put through to the control room at Chelmsford. I was informed that there was no offence being committed as all dogs were on leads, and as resources were stretched there was no way a unit could attend to give words of advice.

The control room operative suggested that even if police attended, if people refused to leave with their dogs they could do nothing.

I found this attitude staggering and told the operative it would be on his conscience if anything should happen.

As a former police officer myself, I am well aware of the constraints of police resources, although I would argue that someone could have found five minutes to attend to give advice on a generally quiet bank holiday.

But where was Harlow Council? Where is the enforcement we pay heavily for? And, moreover, where is the personal responsibility of people who put their dogs over the safety of children?

I am a dog owner and there is no way I would take my dog into these child-friendly environments. Let's keep it child-friendly and dog-free.

Owners - leave your dogs at home as this is a children's playground. Police - be pro-active rather than reactive. And Harlow Council? Deliver the services we pay for; our children's lives are worth that at the very least.

Blow the whistle on football nuisance

SIR, I am really annoyed at children who constantly play football on the field at top of Wharley Hook and who persist in using the gate nearest the road as goalposts with no respect for property ie, cars and walls.

I have seen a football being kicked over the gate and the 'boom' as it bounces against the walls and windows of nearby Regency Court. Not only does it annoy those of us living there, it is the car owners I feel concerned for.

I had no choice but to relay my concerns to the police.

One of these days someone will get hurt, either a child playing football and running out into the nearby road or glass smashing from the cars and windows being broken at the nearby Regency Court.

Scooter trip ordeal

SIR, Yesterday I decided to venture out in the electric scooter friends at the church had given me.

It was my first trip. The scooter was charged up but sadly expired outside the Willow Beauty.

Fortunately my friend was passing by and went to ask two firefighters to come to my aid.

The Willow beauty stored the scooter and Town Taxis took me home for free.

While I was stuck outside the Willow Beauty a nurse with her children stopped to ask if I was okay.

My friend kindly took my parcel to the town for posting and items I had collected to the British Heart Foundation shop.

In the words of Shakespeare: "Thanks, thanks and ever thanks".

Aldi submits revised shop plans

Craig Messenger Only one killing local trade is Harlow Council with parking charges.

Joy Hale Would be lovely to see some variety of small boutiques, franchises and even people selling their own fruit and veg at all the shopping areas. There's lots of potential and if rents came down and people took their arts and crafts hobbies into buildings (perhaps even just pop up shops?) we would see these areas thrive. Aldi is Aldi, bit more variety than Lidl; and I still scratch my head that three Tesco stores got through the planning stages! Same for pound stores, but that's another thing.

Simon Clarke Get rid of one of the Tesco's and bring in Morrisons...far better than Aldi. What about the empty unit near Toys R Us? Morrisons move in there and give Harlow more quality choice.

Community heroes honoured at awards ceremony

HARLOW'S community champions have been presented with civic awards by Harlow Council for their commitment and contributions to the town.

The awards were presented at last week's annual council meeting by outgoing Harlow Council chairman Maggie Hulcoop.

The youngest recipient of the prestigious award was 18-year-old Suliman Ahmed, who is currently a student at Leventhorpe School.

The ex-Mark Hall School pupil was recognised for his role as a youth councillor and for his continued work with Harlow Youth Council after stepping down due to other commitments.

Moir Jones, of Bishopsfield, received her award for her work as a librarian at the Gibberd Garden Trust and other roles within community projects, while green-fingered former council employee Colin Lincoln won after being nominated for his wildlife work in Harlow Town Park and Parndon Wood Nature Reserve.

In addition, Bob McKenzie was recognised for his continued work as a community champion.

The retired heating engineer, who completed his National Service in the Royal Military Police, has served on various representative tenant bodies, a champion for paddling pools and organised street parties in Church Leys to celebrate the silver, gold and diamond jubilees.

The only organisation to receive an award was local charity CanalAbility, which runs four boats providing day trips, short breaks and holidays for people with disabilities, particularly those in wheelchairs or with impaired mobility.

Writer who charted town's history dies

PROLIFIC local historian and former Harlow College teacher Hazel Lake has died, aged 87.

The daughter of a senior master at Sibford Quaker School, she was born in Oxfordshire and educated at Quaker schools and at the London School of Economics, where she took a degree in economics.

She married Christopher Lake and they lived in Cyprus before moving to Harlow in 1956. She taught at Great Parndon School, Harlow College and, for a period, in Sweden.

Deeply interested in local history, she penned five books: The Arkwrights of Harlow (with Joyce Jones), Life and Death of Burnt Mill Village, Sugar Planters in Little Parndon, The Life of William Smith and The History of Mark Hall Manor.

Mrs Lake also wrote two books on English language teaching and served as vice-chair of the Friends of Harlow Museum.

She is survived by her husband - from whom she was divorced - two daughters and three grandchildren.

Rotary club boost for emergency unit

HARLOW Tye Rotary Club have donated £1,000 to the emergency assessment unit at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Members from the group presented PAH with a cheque last week. Club president John Pritchard said: "We are delighted to have been able to donate this money to such a worthy cause."

"The Princess Alexandra Hospital is dear to the hearts of local people and we wanted to do our bit to help support the EAU department, which is the front door to many of the wards and services of the entire hospital so their role is critical."

Judge orders destruction of dangerous dog

A DANGEROUS dog which attacked a teenager in Harlow and left him with an horrific arm injury is to be put down.

On Friday a court issued a death warrant on the black Labrador cross, which bit 14-year-old Brandon Elston and later attacked a police officer who went to investigate the incident.

The dog - named Blade - was already facing a provisional death sentence. But after owner Janet Godfrey (34), of Amherst Lodge, Harlow, failed to turn up at Chelmsford Magistrates Court for the order to be made, district judge John Woolard ordered police to track down the animal and have it put down.

At the time of the attack the dog was being walked by Tamlin Kester Presland, a neighbour of Ms Godfrey. He appeared before magistrates at an earlier hearing and was ordered to pay £250 compensation to Brandon after pleading guilty to being in charge of the dog and allowing it to be dangerously out of control.

The court was told that Brandon was "scarred for life" after being bitten on the wrist on March 14. He needed surgery and stitches after the attack, which resulted in his radial artery being severed.

Later, when a police officer went to the owner's home to investigate the incident,

COURT REPORTER

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

he was also bitten by the dog.

The original court hearing put the wheels in motion for the 'contingent destruction order' to be made in respect of the animal. However, the owner had to be present for the order to be made.

Speaking after Friday's hearing, the victim's mum, Sharon Elston, said: "I'm pleased the court has now ordered it to be destroyed but the police have still got to track down the dog."

"Dogs that bite people should be destroyed."

"As far as we know the dog has gone missing so police time has now got to be taken up trying to find it. In the meantime, as it's already bitten two people it could well attack another."

Mrs Elston has already been in touch with Harlow MP Robert Halfon over the issue of dangerous dogs and is hoping to take her son to the House of Commons to meet him to discuss it in detail.

"The Government needs to take a much stronger line on dangerous dogs," she said. "The judge at court questioned why the dog was not seized immediately after it bit Brandon."

Families 'Down Under' asked to share stories

DO you have family in Australia? A new history project by the University of Hertfordshire is urging people who do to get in touch and share their memories.

Project Leader Andrew Green, a senior visiting research fellow at the University of Hertfordshire, is aiming to link up families and collect stories from those who migrated to Australia and those who stayed behind.

Mr Green said: "Full Circle aims to link up families separated by the 12,000 miles between here and Perth.

"We'll be collecting memories from those who've emigrated and those who stayed behind to create 'whole family' stories.

"The university is keen to hear readers' stories, even if the separation happened recently."

Those who take part in the project will be interviewed, with transcripts stored at the University of Hertfordshire and the University of Western Australia.

If you are interested in getting involved, contact Andrew Green on 01494 881871 or send an email to gardengreen333@yahoo.co.uk.

Early beginnings for Cub Scouts

Scouting has always been a favourite pastime of youngsters all over the country - and Harlow is no exception.

The very first Scout group in the Star patch is believed to have been founded in 1910. The town now boasts nine Scout groups and two Explorer Scout units.

The photograph above, taken from George Taylor's wonderful book The Archive Photographs

Series: Harlow, shows one of the town's early Cub Scout groups in their newly-erected tent which they pitched off School Lane. The picture is believed to have been taken around 1960.

The late 1960s was a time of great change for the Scout Association, which introduced a new promise and law, changes to the uniform - which saw long trousers and berets introduced as standard across the country - and new training schemes.

The biggest change was to allow boys and girls in the same group, although this was restricted to the Venture Scouts until 1991.

Can you spot yourself in the photograph? Were you part of a Harlow Scout group during the 1960s, '70s or '80s? Share your scouting memories by contacting Nostalgia on (01279) 400577.

Corned beef caused town typhoid outbreak

THIS month marks 50 years since Harlow made national headlines when a shock outbreak of typhoid tragically claimed the lives of several residents.

Normally associated with South America and South Asia, the potentially fatal disease is a highly contagious infection caused by a salmonella-type bacteria. Its sudden appearance in the town back in 1963 initially left health officials perplexed.

As soon as tests confirmed that at least four residents had contracted the disease, an urgent investigation was launched in a bid to find the source of the outbreak.

The town's sewerage system

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

and milk and water supplies were checked and all those diagnosed were interviewed.

Eventually the outbreak was traced back to a butcher's shop in The Stow, where contaminated corned beef from South America was found to be the culprit. A member of the staff was also found to have contracted the fever.

According to Nostalgia reader Eric Thacker (75), of Ladyshot, a total of 13 residents died during the outbreak, with a further five people recovering from the disease.

"I was in the process of moving to the town from Tottenham at the time," he said. "When I told people I was relocating to Harlow they'd say I shouldn't because there were people dying of typhoid there."

"I think around 13 people died in total. That number is in my head but I can't be sure."

"They were very quick in trying to find out where it had come from and they soon discovered it had started from a butcher's in The Stow."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Appeal after iPad robbery

A MAN was robbed of his iPad in Hollyfield, Harlow, after his assailant claimed he had a gun.

Police are now appealing for information to identify the man who robbed the 23-year-old at around 8.20pm as he was walking back from the train station on Sunday (June 2).

The suspect is described as white, 19-years-old, 5ft 8ins tall of slender build and with dark hair.

Anyone with information is asked to contact police on 101.

Library upgrade to self-service

ESSEX County Council Library Services has announced an upgrade to its self-service machines.

Harlow Central Library will be closed for three days from Tuesday, June 11 to Thursday, June 13 while all machines are updated.

The new appliances will use more advanced technology and will be able to accept payments, which will allow library users to settle any fines, pay for DVDs and other charged items at the same time as checking out their loan items.

Advice Bureau says thank you

HARLOW Citizens Advice Bureau has used National Volunteers Week to thank their 58 volunteers after new statistics show they have contributed £100m worth of working hours to the organisation.

The town's CAB volunteers collectively contribute around 500 hours each week.

Chief Executive of Citizens Advice, Gillian Guy, said: "Every time I visit one of our bureaux I am struck by volunteers' professionalism and devotion, and it's great that our whole organisation is taking the time to thank them for their work."

Stief's run challenge in memory of parents

A SINGER and aspiring actor will be playing his toughest part yet when he tackles two Great North Runs during the next four months to raise money for Cancer Research UK.

Stief Billy (37), frontman of local psychobilly band The Noxious Toyz, said losing both his mum and dad to cancer had made him determined to raise money in their memory.

"I am not a runner, but I wanted to do this to raise money and awareness of a fantastic charity who do a lot in the fight against cancer," he told the Star.

"I have been training hard and I've already lost four stone with all the running, cycling and rowing I've had to do.

"I was born in Newcastle and I go there quite a lot so I know both routes well. I'm looking forward to it."

Stief, who lives in The Stow, has had to juggle a busy recording schedule and multiple film appearances with his rigorous training timetable.

He said: "On film sets there's a lot of sitting around so I make sure I do

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

something during those quiet periods, and if I'm working I wake up at 5am and go for a run.

"But it has been mentally draining because my parents are always in my mind.

"Since I have been sharing my story and trying to get people to sponsor me I've had huge support and people telling me they have been through the same, which has been really moving. It's that support which spurs me on and gives me my drive.

"I feel better since I started - mentally and physically. It's like being given a new lease of life."

He added: "I want to raise £200 from the 10k run at the end of June and I'd love to raise £400 for the 13-mile run in September. Obviously the more I raise, the better."

To sponsor Stief visit his fundraising webpage at www.justgiving.com/StiefABilly or text TOYZ69 plus the amount you want to donate to 70070.

FOCUSED: Stief A Billy will be running the BUPA Great North Run on June 23 before tackling a half marathon race in September

Punctuality improves on Harlow trains

TRAIN operator Greater Anglia has recorded its best ever period of punctuality with 95.7 per cent of trains on time in the last month.

The Abellio company said the West Anglia service, which stops at Harlow Town and Harlow Mill, arrived on time 94.6 per cent of the time, with a rate of 93.4 per cent recorded on the Stansted Express between the airport and the capital.

Greater Anglia claims it has consistently delivered improved punctuality since taking over the franchise in February last year.

Managing director Ruud Haket said: "I am very pleased that train punctuality continues to improve and we have recorded our best-ever four-week period of punctuality.

"We recognise there is more work to do in achieving greater consistency and will continue to focus on delivering further improvements in train punctuality for our customers across the region."

Make a difference to a child's life become a Shared Carer!

We need caring, responsible people who can welcome a child with a disability into their home primarily to offer support on a regular basis.

All children placed with Shared Carers have disabilities. This could be a learning or physical disability, sensory impairment, long term medical needs, or a combination of any of these.

The Shared Care Service offers families of children with a disability an opportunity of a break and gives the child a chance to meet new people, make new friends and access different social and leisure opportunities.

Children such as Kieron, who is currently waiting to be matched with a Shared Carer. He has developmental delay, is deaf and is a very sociable child who enjoys playing with other children.

A little of your time really can make a BIG difference

Shared Carers can be single or a couple, with or without children. We will carry out an assessment of you and your family and provide you with training, support and expenses.

We currently have opportunities for Shared Carers to provide both day care and overnight care, dependant on your availability and experience.

Interested?

Then please contact Michelle Jephcott, our Shared Care Co-ordinator, on 01279 433117 or 01279 433667 for further information and an informal chat.

COMMUNITYNEWS

Fancy dress fundraiser exceeds expectations

TWO tigers, a gorilla, three superheroes and a host of other characters took to the roads of Harlow in a fancy dress walk to raise money for community projects throughout the town.

The Prince's Trust team organised the six-mile sponsored trek starting from the Summers Xperience Centre with the aim of raising enough cash to upgrade outdoor facilities at Passmores House and Partridge Care Centre.

Dominique Burns, who organised the walk, said: "We set a modest target of £100 and we have raised around £700, which is amazing. It goes above and beyond what we could have hoped for."

"Our walk took us all through Harlow and it went really well, although we were saturated by the time we arrived back in Summers because of the wet weather!"

She added: "The money will go towards the repaving of Passmores House and Partridge Care Centre's outside areas, which we'll now be organising and completing."

"It should mean a big improvement in the outside areas for the residents, especially with summer approaching."

Rainbow passes with flying colours

HARLOW charity Rainbow Services has been recognised for its commitment to volunteers after being awarded the prestigious 'Investing in Volunteers' quality mark.

Assessor Anne-Marie Zaritsky from Volunteering England stated in her report that "there is an organisation-wide commitment to volunteer involvement [at Rainbow]."

Jackie Sully, chief executive, of Rainbow Services, said: "As an organisation which relies on the dedication, loyalty and time of a diverse volunteer team, the IIV external confirmation of best practice is greatly valued."

"We are pleased that we are clearly able to demonstrate our consistency in valuing volunteers as part of the team."

Red tape and cuts affecting support

A CHARITY which has been supporting carers and care service users in Essex for nearly 20 years is worried that Government financial cuts and complicated referral processes are leaving people without the support they need.

Essex Respite & Care Association has seen a fall in the number of referrals since the introduction of a personalised budget for individuals requiring support.

Chairman Hazel Ruane said: "Unless the service can be privately funded, those with a mental health diagnosis must apply for a personalised budget to pay for services through their local community health team."

"We are actively seeking carers and those who need care who feel they may benefit from our service."

To get in touch with the charity, call (01245) 353855.

Volunteer drivers urgently needed

HARLOW Community Transport is looking for volunteer drivers to join its social car and minibus scheme.

The charity, which offers schemes to help Harlow residents with disabilities and medical problems get around as well as organising day trips, is also seeking new trustees for its board.

Organiser Lisa Brachtvogel said: "We provide a valuable service and we need more volunteers to get involved."

For more information contact Lisa on (01279) 446871.

Teaching English in Thailand for a gap year of volunteering

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

WHILE most A-level students take a well-earned break after completing their exams, one adventurous teenager is preparing to jet off to Thailand to spend a year teaching English to underprivileged children.

Amy Cawson, of Church Leys, Harlow, will be moving to the Far East to spend a year volunteering in a secondary school in the village of Muang Samsip in eastern Thailand.

The 18-year-old Herts & Essex High School student, has been supported on her volunteering trip by the Jack Petchy Foundation after successfully bidding for one of the charity's £300 volunteering grants. She was inspired to get involved with Project Trust, an organisation which supports volunteering opportunities abroad, after attending a talk at her school.

"The talk was by someone who had already been away volunteering and it sounded like something I would really like to do," she said.

"He explained how going away for a year on a gap year

YOUNG TRAVELLER: Amy Cawson will be leaving for Thailand in August to teach English to secondary school children in Muang Samsip village can be a really useful experience but that it's better to be doing something useful with your time - and I agree."

Amy, who has just completed A-levels in English literature, history and religious studies and hopes to attend the University of York to study history and philosophy on her return, said she was relishing the opportunity to see more of the world.

"I've always wanted to travel but obviously haven't had the chance," she said. "My family travelled a bit before I was born and I've always wanted to do it after hearing their stories."

"Project Trust match you up to a project where you will be able to provide the most help and get the most out of it."

"I'm feeling incredibly nervous but it is something I have always wanted to do."

Heroes ride in for final stop on charity trek

AFTER five days of cycling, weary veterans and serving members of the Armed Forces rode into Harlow for the final pitstop of their charity bike challenge.

The group, who are raising money for Help for Heroes, stayed overnight at the Holiday Inn Express in Crown Gate on Saturday as they made their way to the capital to meet up with hundreds of fellow riders for the final leg of their 423-mile journey.

The 15 riders, all of whom have suffered injury or illness while serving their country, set off for London the following morning to complete the trek.

One of those who took part in the challenge was Craig Donaghue from Middlesbrough.

After having served on tours of duty in Northern Ireland, Bosnia and Afghanistan he was medically discharged from the Army after suffering a serious back injury.

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

He made his first journey to London on a hand bike to raise money for Help for Heroes.

"It was an amazing experience and one I'll never forget", he told the Star. "I first got the hand bike from Help for Heroes in September and at first just getting up the stairs was exhausting, so I'm very proud."

Kelly Bostock, support programme manager for Help for Heroes said: "All of those who took part have suffered life-changing injuries or illnesses while serving their country."

"Our aim at Help for Heroes is to inspire and enable them to lead active, independent and fulfilling lives. The challenge of training for and taking part in the Hero Ride played a valuable part in this."

Interim chairman for ambulance trust

AN interim chairman has been appointed for the East of England Ambulance Service NHS Trust to help oversee its turnaround plan.

Dr Geoff Harris took up the role last week and is due to remain in post until next May. He will be working alongside chief executive Andrew Morgan, current acting chairman Paul Remington and the executive team.

Dr Harris has worked at NHS board level for many years, most recently as chairman of NHS South of England Strategic Health Authority. He served as both chairman and deputy chairman at the General Optical Council from 2004 to 2010.

His other NHS roles include non-executive director and chairman of Buckinghamshire Mental Health NHS Trust from 2003 to 2006 and non-executive director of Stoke Mandeville Hospital NHS Trust from 1999 to 2003.

"This is a great opportunity to assist the recovery of the trust," he said. "Challenges in improving performance, response times, recruiting and empowering staff have been clearly identified, among many others, in the turnaround plan."

"I look forward to working with the trust board, staff and stakeholders to deliver the improvements needed."

Last month the trust announced it wanted to "completely transform" the ambulance service and pledged to recruit more staff, curb levels of staff sickness and overhaul its management structure as part of the turnaround plan, which was launched following criticism of its response times.

Mr Remington said: "Transforming the organisation for the benefit of our patients will take time, but, over the next 12 months, specialist leadership support will help us improve the service we give to patients and support our dedicated and committed staff."

Scientists want to clone woolly mammoth

THE frozen carcass of a 10,000 year old woolly mammoth has been discovered with blood still in its veins - boosting the chances of a Jurassic Park-style clone of the ancient beast.

Scientists made their amazing discovery on a remote island in the Arctic Ocean. The creature's remains were so well-preserved in the ice the team were able to extract liquid blood from the elephant-like animal - believed to have been the largest land-dwelling mammal that ever walked the Earth. They now believe that they may be able to bring the long-extinct species back from the dead using tissue samples taken from the creature's blood and carcass. Once the tissue has been treated to a nuclear transfer process, eggs could potentially be implanted into the womb of a live elephant for a 22-month pregnancy. "This is the most astonishing case in my entire life," said expedition leader Semyon Grigoryev. "How was it possible for the blood to remain in liquid form? And the muscle tissue is also red, the colour of fresh meat."

HARLOW BUSINESS EXHIBITION

Harlow Leisurezone, Harlow, Tuesday 11 June 2013, 10am - 4pm

Now in its fourth year, Harlow Business Exhibition has expanded to accommodate its highest number of exhibitors yet, with over 130 organisations represented at the event. Each company will have a stand at this year's show, which is being held at Harlow Leisurezone on Tuesday, June 11.

The exhibition is designed to showcase the very best of Harlow business and to demonstrate the variety of businesses in the town that are flourishing in difficult financial circumstances.

The event kicks off at 10am when Harlow MP Robert Halfon opens what he has described as the "biggest networking event in the East of England".

Hundreds of visitors are expected to attend to find out more about the companies exhibiting, giving firms the chance to forge new contacts and find new customers.

With 22 business-boosting seminars also taking place upstairs in the Health Resource Centre, visitors will have access to experts from a diverse range of industries. The first of these will be delivered at 10.05am by Masterchef semi-finalist Saira Hamilton, and details of all seminars can be found on page 16.

Event co-founder Ian Hudson of Harlow Business Exhibitions Ltd said: "Our aim has always been to provide a forum for local businesses to showcase their services and products to local people. We are delighted that so many organisations have chosen to take part this year. There will be plenty of entertainment, too, including a golf simulator provided by North Weald Golf Club which will no doubt generate a lot of interest."

Bookings for the seminars can be made by emailing seminars@harlowbusinessexhibition.co.uk.

RIGHTS&ADVICESMART way to get money management and debt advice

IN this time of recession and austerity, many people will be feeling the effects of an increase in the cost of living which is not matched by an increase in income.

Some will have been made redundant or had their working hours or pay reduced. Some will have had a reduction in benefit as a result of the 'bedroom tax' or the move to the localised council tax benefit scheme, which has seen a reduction in the amount payable in Harlow and many other areas.

For some, this will simply mean a tightening of belts. For others it will mean struggling to pay bills that were previously manageable and getting into debt.

To help address this, Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice and Harlowsave are working on a joint project, funded by the National Lottery to provide Harlow residents with advice and assistance in connection with debt and money management.

The SMARTAdvice project is designed to help anyone who is struggling by providing both money management advice and specialist debt advice. It is a free, confidential and impartial service.

Harlowsave is providing one-to-one and group sessions which look at budgeting, income and expenditure and ways to increase income and reduce expenditure. For example, are there savings that could be made by paying bills by direct debit or switching energy suppliers?

Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice, which is currently located in the Harlowsave offices, provide specialist debt advice including liability, prioritising creditors, court action and potential options available such as token offers, pro rata repayments, debt relief orders and bankruptcy.

HWRA can also negotiate with creditors, provide benefits and tax credits advice and assist with court forms.

Anyone who feels they would benefit from either money management or debt advice - or both - should contact Harlowsave on (01279) 451234 or pop in to the office located on the first floor of the town centre library. Opening times are Monday 12-2pm, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday 10am-2pm.

Alternatively, the Friends of HWRA will be holding a drop-in event outside the Advice Centre between 10am and 2pm on June 12, when service staff will be on hand to advise members of the public.

PAH bucks national trend for A&E waiting targets

PRINCESS Alexandra Hospital has bucked national statistics which show many NHS hospitals are failing to meet Government-set A&E waiting times.

In the first three months of this year more than 95 per cent of patients attending the casualty department at the Harlow hospital were seen by a professional within the four-hour waiting time target - making it one of only two hospitals in Essex to reach above the mark.

Last year PAH also achieved the 95 per cent target which was introduced 10 years ago.

Joud Abduljawad, A&E consultant and clinical director at PAH, said: "We have very dedicated staff, management and consultants within the emergency department and throughout the whole of the hospital who have patient care at the centre of everything they do."

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"PAH has gone through a recruitment drive and a huge transformation period which means doctors and nurses are now in charge of the decision making with supportive managers behind them. This means a patient can be seen, diagnosed and treated efficiently and effectively and it does in fact work very well."

He added: "Many people who have an illness or chronic illness but who may not need to be in A&E arrive at the department because they are not clear where to go."

"We have dedicated senior nurses who can do all the regular health checks and make the decision as to where those patients need to be to be better cared for - whether that is in the hospital, in A&E or back with their GPs."

"The four-hour time target is there for patient safety but sometimes it is necessary for a patient to stay in A&E longer than four hours before they are diagnosed and treated because they need to be stabilised or it is unsafe to move them to another department."

"Everything we do, we do thinking of our patients and the best way to treat them efficiently and effectively."

"There is no clash between patient safety and achieving our targets which is why we are very proud to be above the 95 per cent."

Mr Abduljawad said that as long as PAH continued to see, diagnose and treat more than 95 per cent of patients before the four-hour target then it would be happy.

Marie looks forward to her fifth Midnight Walk

MIDNIGHT Walk veteran Marie Merritt will be taking part for the fifth time when she dresses up in pink for next month's St Clare Hospice fundraiser.

Marie, of Fir Park, Harlow, and several of her friends will be starting the 5km walk in memory of Margaret Thomas, who was cared for at a hospice in Cornwall.

Marie has visited friends at St Clare Hospice at Hastingwood and is keen to show her support for the work "The staff are amazing," she said. "They're like saints."

Marie is vowing to continue her Midnight Walk tradition of wearing a big pink hat as well as flashing ears, pink pyjamas and earrings.

"It's great, the atmosphere is fantastic and everyone is coming together for a good cause," she said.

The Midnight Walk takes place on Saturday, July 6, starting from the Water Gardens car park in Harlow town centre at 10.30pm. The entry fee is £15 per person and walkers can choose between a 5km or 10km route.

Every walker will receive a special Midnight Walk T-shirt, goody bag and a medal when they finish.

For more information and to register to take part visit stclarehospice.org.uk/midnight.html or call (01279) 773750.

Marie looks forward to her fifth Midnight Walk

MIDNIGHT Walk veteran Marie Merritt will be taking part for the fifth time when she dresses up in pink for next month's St Clare Hospice fundraiser.

Marie, of Fir Park, Harlow, and several of her friends will be starting the 5km walk in memory of Margaret Thomas, who was cared for at a hospice in Cornwall.

Marie has visited friends at St Clare Hospice at Hastingwood and is keen to show her support for the work "The staff are amazing," she said. "They're like saints."

Marie is vowing to continue her Midnight Walk tradition of wearing a big pink hat as well as flashing ears, pink pyjamas and earrings.

"It's great, the atmosphere is fantastic and everyone is coming together for a good cause," she said.

The Midnight Walk takes place on Saturday, July 6, starting from the Water Gardens car park in Harlow town centre at 10.30pm. The entry fee is £15 per person and walkers can choose between a 5km or 10km route.

Every walker will receive a special Midnight Walk T-shirt, goody bag and a medal when they finish.

For more information and to register to take part visit stclarehospice.org.uk/midnight.html or call (01279) 773750.

Jail for the carjacker who 'brought terror' to streets of Harlow

COURT REPORTER
star@hertsexnews.co.uk

A CARJACKER who left two drivers with injuries after a double crash in Harlow has been jailed for four years.

Craig Barnes (24) stole a high performance car in Chelmsford at knifepoint and then went on a two-hour terror drive at speeds of more than 100 mph which ended in a head-on crash in Harlow.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told Barnes threatened a mother and daughter with a hunting knife before driving off in their grey Audi TT.

Police initially gave chase but stopped because they feared it would only make him drive more dangerously. However, he was tailed by a police helicopter as he drove towards Harlow, where he crashed head-on into one vehicle and collided with another.

Officers in the helicopter then saw him run away from the scene of the accident as he attempted to make his escape.

The drivers of the other two cars involved in the crash - a 73-year-old woman and a 40-year-old man, suffered injuries for which they were taken to hospital for treatment.

Marcus Crosskell, prosecuting, said before the incident on February 5 Barnes had been involved in an argument with a couple at an address in Chelmsford and stated he was going to leave.

Outside a nearby Tesco Express he used the knife to threaten Kim Jenkins

Mr Crosskell told the court: "Travelling towards Broomfield and onto the A130 towards Waltham, he stopped for fuel at a petrol station before police were alerted and the Audi was spotted and followed.

"He accelerated to speeds of over 100mph and police asked for assistance from a helicopter. He [Barnes] went through a red light and the police, doing 80mph, decided to stop the pursuit as it was making the car go faster."

Mr Crosskell said that after a two-hour drive Barnes, who was on the wrong side of the road while trying to overtake, crashed head-on into the Fiesta and then spun, hitting the Peugeot.

Sean Minihan, representing Barnes - who pleaded guilty to robbery, dangerous driving and possession of the knife - said: "He accepts he had been drinking and he lost control in an overtaking manoeuvre when he struck the first vehicle and collided with the other vehicle."

Passing sentence, judge Emma Peters told the defendant: "This was a serious incident and it's lucky no-one was killed. You wanted to cause damage to yourself and didn't care who you took along with you on your night of glory."

"You terrified two ladies with the car, forced them at knifepoint to get out of the car and drove off, bringing injury and terror to the streets of Essex."

"You drove in an appallingly dangerous and reckless manner in excess of 100 mph, sometimes on the wrong side of the road. People had to get out of the way and you drove through a red light. Fortunately you were able to be followed by a police helicopter."

Barnes was sentenced to 32 months for the robbery, 16 months consecutive for dangerous driving and a month concurrent for having the knife.

Jonathan and Charlotte added to Rosie's kiss list

CHARITY kisser Rosie Long has added a couple more names to her checklist - bringing her total up to 18.

Rosie, of Markwell Wood, Harlow, managed to smooch singing duo Jonathan and Charlotte from TV's Britain's Got Talent.

"I thought that if I kissed Jonathan and Charlotte I

www.harlowstar.co.uk

would end up getting a bit of stick from people following my campaign that they're not real celebrities, but Jonathan and Charlotte have been, by far, the most delightful people that I've met since I began my campaign," she said.

The 24-year-old recruitment consultant has set herself the challenge of kissing 50 celebrities during 2013 to raise money for Great Ormond Street Hospital.

"I'm currently trying to track three major celebrities who are performing in the West End at the moment - Daniel Radcliffe, James McAvoy and Dame Judi Dench," she said.

"My plan is to call each of the theatres and try to meet them after their performances."

CCTV clue to suspect in pressure washer theft

POLICE investigating the theft of a pressure washer from a store in the Harvey Centre, Harlow, have released a CCTV images of a man they want to question.

The theft took place on the morning of Friday, May 10, when a man walked into Wilkinson and took the washer from a display before leaving the premises without making any attempt to pay.

Anyone with information about the theft or who recognises the man in the picture should contact police at Harlow on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Arts stalwart awarded top union honour

A SEASONED actor, director and dance tutor has been awarded honorary life membership of actors' and dancers' trade union Equity in recognition of his lifelong dedication to the arts.

Michael Branwell, artistic director at Harlow Ballet Association, received the top honour at Equity's annual conference last month.

The award - the highest the union can confer on its members - recognised his tireless efforts to assist minorities in the performing world, from fighting for the rights of stage managers to drawing up contracts for pole dancers.

He also helped found the International Performers' Trust, of which he is now chairman, and is a trustee of both the Equity Charitable Trust and the Equity Staff Pension Fund.

His wife Henrietta, who works alongside Michael at HBA and was herself granted honorary lifetime membership of the union two years ago, said her husband had been left speechless by the award.

"He was totally tongue-tied when it came to making his acceptance speech - almost the first time ever I have known him lost for words," she said.

"I'm proud that his 45 years of unpaid and dedicated service to his fellow performers has been very appropriately celebrated."

Gift of laughter from a true comedy master

A HEADY brew of whip-smart social commentary, rapier wit and riotous ribaldry promises to leave Playhouse audiences in stitches next week when the award winning Global Theatre Company stage a side-splitting new adaptation of Noel Coward's hilarious comedy of manners Present Laughter.

Rumoured to be semi-autobiographical, the play follows the trials and tribulations of Gary Essendine (played by Richard Holliss) - the archetypal, self-obsessed matinee idol.

A bon vivant who also looks remarkably good in a dressing gown, Gary is a hugely talented performer in the great tradition of theatre knights Sir Henry

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Irving and Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, but inwardly frets over his ambitions, his advancing years and his treatment at the hands of the critics.

While preparing for a theatrical tour of Africa - and a well-deserved break from the footlights and the greasepaint - his scandalous last-minute flirtations with scheming man-eater Joanna (Suzanne MacPherson) and starry-eyed debutante Daphne (Jennifer Dorian) invokes the sudden return of his ex-wife Liz (Elaine Elliott), the exasperation of long-serving secretary Monica (Christine Holliss) and the outrage of business associates, Morris (Adam Elms) and Henry (Chris Millington).

All are unwittingly drawn into the mayhem Gary has unwisely created for himself, a state-of-affairs that's further complicated by the intrusion of the dangerously unpredictable Roland Maulee (Lee Ocsko), an avant-garde playwright who happens to be Gary's number one fan.

● Present Laughter* opens at the Playhouse Studio next Thursday (June 13) for a two-night run. Performances start at 7.45pm and tickets cost £14-£15.50.

Relight your fire with tribute to Take That

A BOMBASTIC live tribute to pop sensations Take That promises to raise the roof at Harlow Playhouse on Saturday night.

Fans unable to wait for the boyband's hotly-anticipated new album and tour can get their fix of Gary Barlow and co as top tribute act Rule The World perform pitch-perfect covers of the group's greatest hits, including Back For Good, Million Love Songs, Never Forget and Relight My Fire.

The four-piece have built up quite a reputation for their dazzling live shows, wowing television audiences on ITV1's Daybreak and gaining the official seal of approval from Gary Barlow himself, who described their show as "brilliant".

Now in their sixth year of touring, all four performers - Daniel Mayes (Gary Barlow), Matt Hall (Mark Owen), Dom Moccia (Howard Donald) and Joe Currey (Jason Orange) - are professionally trained singers and dancers, helping to give their pyrotechnics-laden live shows the high production values you would expect from a real Take That concert.

● Rule The World: A Tribute to Take That* appear at Harlow Playhouse on Saturday (June 8). The performance starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £12 from (01279) 431945 or www.playhouseharlow.com.

GARDENING & PUZZLES

Gardening gifts galore

If your dad wants to make the most of the garden in so-called 'flaming June' and beyond, then you can make his Father's Day by buying him a gift which will make his job easier or simply make him smile.

Top of the list must be Hozelock's new Flexi Spray, the winning garden product of this year's RHS Chelsea Flower Show. It's a terrific multi-purpose watering attachment which can be moulded into an array of shapes for different watering functions, from stretching to hanging baskets, to shaping to use as a lawn spray. Available from DIY stores, leading garden centres and specialist retailers, RRP £29.99.

Among the most practical presents for the keen, active gardener is the Bosch AMW 10 Multi-tool, an all-in-one device for tackling unruly lawn edges, dishevelled trees and unkempt hedges.

The 1000w motor will allow users to cut through thick twigs and branches, while the attachment heads can be changed easily, without the need for additional tools.

It will be a great help if your dad has trouble reaching high hedges, as it's capable of cutting overhead with the 180-degree-angle hedgecutter, trimming stubborn growth with the heavy-duty trimmer and pruning overhead branches with the pole pruner. The motor unit retails from £79.99, the hedgecutter attachment from £69.99, the pole pruner attachment from £69.99 and the heavy duty trimmer attachment from £59.99. The complete kit is available from £199.99 from selected retailers. For details, visit www.bosch.co.uk

Those who are on a tight budget may prefer to go for more frivolous gifts which look great and do a fine job in the garden. House of Bath sells a delightful Robin Teapot Nester, an open nesting site made from a frost-resistant ceramic teapot with a lovely rustic finish that robins, flycatchers, wrens and wagtails will love. Priced £16.95 from www.houseofbath.co.uk or phone 0871 230 0867.

by Hannah Stephenson

It was news last week that the Chelsea Flower Show was lifting its ban on gnomes, so if they're good enough for the RHS, they're good enough for dad and there's some pretty funky gnomes on the market. My favourite is Woodland Wilf Born To Be Wild, a pint-sized figure sitting on a motorbike. It's frostproof, weather resistant and features a solar light as its headlamp. Every dad should have one. RRP £19.99. For stockists details, visit www.woodlandwilf.co.uk or phone 01905 791 984.

Outdoorsy dads will have a laugh flicking through a useful manual entitled Be Prepared: How To Light A Wet Match And 199 Other Useful Things To Know, drawn from the archives of the Scout Association, with a foreword by Bear Grylls. It offers advice on the right way to hold an eel, wield an axe or string a hammock and offers tips on how to survive in the wild, predict the weather or shine at a party. Published by Simon & Schuster, priced £14.99.

If the little ones want to buy something they can do with their dad, look no further than Seed Pantry's delightful new Dad And Me Veg Seeds starter pack, designed for allotments and containing a fantastic selection of 10 easy-to-grow summer season vegetable seeds, including two gourmet lettuce varieties, chard, spinach, tumbling tomatoes, carrots, sweet peppers, French beans, tasty courgettes and Italian beetroot.

Younger gardeners grow four varieties of vegetables and herbs – sweetcorn, cress, pumpkins and sunflowers – and the packs contain all the equipment you need to get started, including mini propagators, bio-degradable rice husk pots, coir coconut husk pots, seed tray, organic mini compost disks, dibblet and seedling markers. The starter pack is priced at £48.75 and available from www.seedpantry.co.uk.

Sharp tools can make or break a gardening task, so if he needs a new pruning tool, treat him to the newly launched Fiskars Quantum bypass pruner, which has a comfortable cork handle, superior blades and a smooth, light and strong aluminium body. Available nationwide in garden centres, DIY stores and online. RRP £54.99. For more information, go to www.fiskars.co.uk

We are all being told to encourage beneficial insects to our gardens and it is hoped the ChapelWood Bee Box will do just that. Made from FSC cedar, it provides an ideal and safe habitat for bees which will hopefully pollinate more of dad's homegrown fruit and veg. Priced £12.99, stockists details on 01905 791 984 or visit www.chapelwoodwildlife.co.uk

Dads who want to add a little life and soul to their outdoor party may love the innovative Speaker Blanket from Spinning Hat, a fold-away picnic blanket which houses an AA battery-operated music system into a fold away picnic blanket. The gadget comes with a 3.5mm headphone jack connection, enabling users to plug in their portable music player or smartphone. When they're finished with the mat, it can be rolled up with the speakers attached and comes with a handle for carrying ease. RRP 34.99, from www.spinninghat.com and www.iwoot.com

FILMS

KEEP IT IN THE FAMILY: Will Smith and his son Jaden must fight for their lives in AFTER EARTH

Smith and son team up in a battle for survival

AFTER EARTH
certificate 12A, 1h40m

THIS sci-fi blockbuster is a family affair, reuniting Will and Jaden Smith for the first time since the saccharine 2006 drama The Pursuit Of Happiness.

M Night Shyamalan's film is a perfect vehicle for Smith Snr to pass on the mantle, combining elements of I Am Legend and Independence Day with a deeply human story of a soldier struggling to connect with his grief-stricken child.

There are some lovely, tender moments in Shyamalan's script that draw heavily on the natural chemistry between the leads. Unfortunately, the demands of a summer blockbuster and the film's epic scope, achieved through a blitzkrieg of digital effects, tend to overwhelm that fragile and sometimes heartbreaking humanity.

In the distant future, Earth is a devastated wasteland, uninhabited by humans who have relocated to Nova Prime. This new planet is also home to an alien race called The Skrel, which views the interlopers as vermin and releases hideously deformed creatures which track humans by the scent of fear pheromones.

One man, General Cypher Raige (Will Smith) from The Ranger Corps, learns to overcome his fear through a phenomenon called ghosting, which allows him to walk among The Ursa undetected, slaughtering the killing machines without mercy.

Cypher's son Kitai (Jaden Smith) trains to become a member of The Ranger Corps in order to assuage his guilt about the death of his older sister (Zoe Isabella Kravitz). While Cypher is emotionally cold and logical, Kitai is both passionate and reckless and so his application to The Corps is rejected.

Cypher's wife Faia (Sophie Okonedo) implores her husband to bond with Kitai during a final mission before retirement. However, a freak asteroid storm badly damages their spaceship, which crashlands on Earth.

Cypher and his boy are the only survivors. With his father critically ill, Kitai must keep a cool head to retrieve a rescue beacon and alert HQ to their dire predicament.

Nell Sweetzer (Ashley Bell), the sole survivor of the malevolent force, is discovered in a catatonic state, barely clinging to her sanity.

After months of medical care and love, she slowly returns to the land of the living and secures employment as a hotel chambermaid, working alongside her friends Cecile (Tara Riggs) and Chris (Spencer Treat Clark), who holds a torch for her.

Over time, Nell develops an uneasy feeling that she is being watched. When tragedy unexpectedly strikes at the hotel, she learns about a secret society that has been closely monitoring her progress and wishes to cleanse the evil that still courses through her veins.

Security salesman James Sandin (Ethan Hawke) returns home to his luxurious gated community and his wife Mary (Lena Headey) and children Zoey (Adelaide Kane) and Charlie (Max Burkholder). It's Purge night and at 7pm a siren will sound that grants anyone immunity from prosecution for killing for the next 12 hours. Tracey Waples Property Editor

WHEN it comes to making big decisions it's only natural to canvass opinion and find out what our friends, family and colleagues think before we take the plunge.

If you're thinking of buying or selling a property, Zoopla's latest Housing Market Sentiment Survey has done all of the hard work for you and can tell you what everyone else is thinking.

According to the survey we are feeling surprisingly confident about the future of the sales market at the moment and believe it's going to get even better. Some 74 per cent of us expect to see property prices go up in the next six months. That's up from 63 per cent at the end of last year and 59 per cent the year before that.

How much prices are expected to increase over the next six months depends on where you live. Results of the national survey showed that on average it's around 4.6 per cent, which is up from 3.4 per cent in October 2012.

The most pessimistic of those surveyed were in Northern Ireland, where they expect prices to fall by 6.7 per cent. The biggest optimists were up in the North East, where they believe prices will rise by 7.5 per cent over the next six months.

This optimistic view of the market seems to stem from what we are actually seeing and hearing about locally. Some 61 per cent of us base our assumptions on properties being bought and sold near us, while 43 per cent also cite the availability of mortgages as a key factor.

If this survey is to be believed, the future looks a great deal better than it has for a long while. No less than 24 per cent of those surveyed said they were thinking of selling a property and 30 per cent said they were thinking of buying one in the next six months.

Who's Choosing Your Home?

An Englishman's home may be his castle but it is usually a woman who chooses it!

94% of estate agents polled in a recent survey confirmed that, in most house-hunting couples or families, it is the woman who has the last word in choosing which home they buy.

Two of the most important factors that attract women in a home are a modern kitchen, and a his-and-hers en-suite bathroom, with 91% of agents questioned saying that a good kitchen is the single feature most likely to clinch a sale. 95% say it is the woman, rather than the man, who is more inclined to want a his-and-hers en-suite bathroom.

For men, almost half the estate agents polled say that a reception room or recreation room large enough for a wide-screen TV is the most important single sale-clinching feature, whilst a quarter find that a shed, workshop/outbuildings is the biggest attraction.

Both men and women (9% and 4% respectively) said that a back garden, protected from neighbours' watchful eyes by high hedges or fencing, also featured as a strong attraction.

Whilst men and women may have different agendas as they seek their ideal home, sellers would be well-advised to consider who typically has the most influence on the buying decision.

When making improvements prior to a sale, it is therefore important to focus on those things that will mostly impress the driving force in the relationship. So whilst the garden wall may need rebuilding, perhaps the money would be better spent on improvements to the kitchen or the creation of an en-suite bathroom instead!

Remember, you are selling a home and a property lifestyle not just bricks and mortar, so take advantage of the respective buying impulses of the most influential people in the buying decision women!

'A Shout from the Auctioneer'

Our Auction on the 14th May was yet again a successful one!

Our clients said "What a great way to sell property. It's a quick, effective and in some cases more profitable!"

Most vendors entering or thinking about selling in an Auction tend to think "I do not want to give my property away". That is not the case. For example if you take some of the lots we have sold over the past several auctions, like:

- The Fish & Chip Shop in Baldock with Guide of £180,000- £200,000 – SOLD for £220,000.
- A Studio flat in Hertford with a Guide of £70,000 - £90,000 – SOLD for £94,000.
- And in last week's Auction Upper Park in Harlow with a Guide of £180,000 £200,000 that made a whopping £52,000 over the guide price.

Just some of the 40 lots we have put under the hammer in our previous Auctions.

Accompanied with cash/funded buyers, when the hammer goes down you have an automatic exchange. Where's the Risk? You set the reserve price!

It seems our audiences with the right property will pay the money and in some cases a lot more!!

Our next auction will be on the 16th July 2013 and we would be delighted to talk to you if you are thinking of selling.

We are looking for:

BY IAIN DOOLEY

AS part of Subaru's efforts to reposition itself within the ever popular sports utility vehicle market, recent years have seen its Forester model evolve from high-rise estate car into a fully-blown SUV.

With the demand for turbo-nutter cars such as Subaru's own Impreza waning and interest in do-it-all family holdalls on the up, it made sense to make the switch from worthy-looking wagon to SUV. Subaru's decision to tap into the demand for such 'soft-roaders' has proven to be a smart one.

The thing is, the Forester is anything but soft. Unlike the vast majority of SUVs out there, the Forester really can walk the walk.

Subaru's trademark all-wheel drive system offers users genuine all-terrain capabilities, plus there's a generous amount of ground clearance to help clear obstacles.

With soft, rounded and apologetic curves, most soft-roaders have their roots in the design and execution of conventional family hatchbacks. The Forester, with its chunky, bold-looking exterior, is a little different.

Unmistakably a Subaru from all angles, the company's designers have managed to create a streamlined appearance without losing the car's left-field identity.

Fact File

Subaru Forester
2.0D XC

£26,995
on the road

ENGINE: 2.0-litre diesel unit developing 147bhp
TRANSMISSION: 6-speed manual driving all four wheels
PERFORMANCE: Maximum speed 118mph, 0-62mph 10.2s
ECONOMY: 47.9mpg
CO₂ RATING: 156g/km

Another obvious change has been the redesign of the Forester's cabin. For many this has been long overdue, and the result is a classy and high-quality interior more in tune with Subaru's premium market aspirations.

Glossy trim and slick operating controls are further evidence of Subaru's hard work. And then there's the car's engine line-up which, like its transmission, is peculiar to Subaru. Opting for a 'flat four' boxer arrangement, the Forester boasts a lower centre of gravity - good for cornering and stability.

The slightly fruitier exhaust note of the petrol motors is another pleasing quirk.

Subaru's commitment to the boxer format extends to diesel power and this 2.0-litre unit has been the subject of some mild fettling to maintain its competitive edge.

Good levels of torque compliment the oil burner's refined powerdelivery, resulting in a polished performance on and off road.

And while the diesel unit is expected to be a popular choice, hardcore Forester fans will be pleased to see the introduction of a turbo petrol unit as the flagship model. Curiously, this turbo unit and the entry-level non-turbo petrol motor can be had with Subaru's continuously variable transmission (CVT).

As an alternative to a conventional auto gearbox, the CVT does a good job of delivering smooth power uptake and is a world apart from the CVTs of old. It's just as well considering it's the only choice available for the high-performance turbo variant.

Other under-the-skin changes to the Forester have had an equally positive influence on the car's character. Changes to its suspension help in promoting a ride that, despite the car's lofty stance, impressively resists pitch and roll, all the while providing a good level of feedback for the driver when driven briskly.

On the road the Forester is a polished performer, delivering a quirk-free driving experience. As you'd expect, the 240 horsepower turbo petrol model is no slouch and Subaru's persistence with CVT gearbox technology has paid off.

Naturally, the 147-horsepower diesel is going to be a more frugal choice for many, and despite its modest output, it never feels sluggish.

Quiet and refined for a diesel, in manual gearbox guise it's an easy car to drive briskly and one that's equally at home grinding through urban traffic or slowly making its way across a muddy field.

Generous levels of equipment and practicality round off the Forester experience. Occupant space in the cabin is good and the rear seats split and fold to further boost the car's load-carrying capacity.

There's all the usual mod cons, even in entry-level trim, with navigation, high-power headlights, leather upholstery, power-opening tailgate and other premium-level safety and comfort items available depending on which handful of trim levels you choose from.

Although now a thoroughly modern and plush mid-size SUV, Subaru's Forester remains an unconventional choice in a market full of me-too soft-roaders.

And unlike the increasing number of SUVs hitting the showrooms, the Forester is as much a refined cruiser as it is a workhorse. Packed with smart technology and know-how, it's a genuine all-weather car for all seasons.

for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Victory a Walk in the park for in-form Langley

Ardeley Walkern 65
Potter St & Church Langley 66-3
Herts & Essex Cricket League, div three

POTTER Street & Church Langley's first team continued from last week's win against Abridge with an emphatic victory against Ardley Walkern.

The Herts & Essex Cricket League division three side picked up a seven-wicket win.

Having won the toss Street put the home side in to bat first and managed to knock them out for just 65 runs.

The opening pair of Alf Khawaja and Terry Savanhu did all the damage as the home side struggled with the pace and swing delivered by both the bowlers.

Khawaja accrued an impressive five wickets for 38 runs, while Savanhu finished with 20 runs for five wickets.

In response to the small total, Street lost opening batsman, Surath Bastolla, in the third over, who departed without troubling the scorers.

Jeff Arm-strong went on to score a composed 38 not out by frequently finding the boundary.

Fahad Huda (5) and Taran Gill (0), slowed progress.

However, Mudassar Hussain (jnr) supported Armstrong in steering Langley home within 14 overs with just three wickets down (66-3).

Street are third after consecutive wins.

The club's second XI triumphed by four wickets at home to Matching Green.

This moved them up to sixth in division five.

Langley bowled first and restricted the opposition to just 94.

Travis Barzey picked up three wickets for 14 runs in seven overs, while Trumayne Linton-Bonbaker also took three wickets for 16 runs in 6 overs.

Opening bowler Pavel made the breakthrough with two early wickets.

In response, PSCL Gary Lyks top scored with 25 with the support of Atul, 19.

The other Langley batsmen also contributing to the chase as the hosts ended on 95-6.

Woffinden's GB hopes dashed

FORMER Rye House Rocket Tai Woffinden had his hopes of victory at the British Speedway Grand Prix in Cardiff in front of 40,000 fans cruelly dashed when he crashed out of the event in his fourth race.

The 22-year-old took no further part in the meeting having suffered a broken collarbone.

It was hugely disappointing for the many British fans who had made the trip to Cardiff hoping to see Woffinden continue his superb run of form in the Grand Prix series, where he was second in the standings after four rounds.

SELECTIONS for the racing at Harlow Greyhound Stadium on Friday June 7:- 7.30 Centurys Sally; 7.47 Shamone Blaze; 8.04 Falknes Victot; 8.21 Indigo Anne; 8.38 Get Home Bonkers; 8.54 Irwins Legend; 9.10 Gentle Eileen; 9.26 Rathronan Lass; 9.42 Hackets Bridge (NAP); 9.58 Rebellious Heart; 10.15 Ballinakill Gene (NB).

Rockets boss Sampford's playing Devils' advocate

RYE House Rockets team manager John Sampford is not under-estimating Plymouth Devils in their opening home Premier League meeting of the season this Saturday (7pm).

Devils were also the last team to visit Hoddesdon in the League Cup and registered a 49-40 victory as the Rockets suffered from a long tail of four riders contributing just 13 points.

The Devon team have been boosted by the signing of explosive Danish rider Mikkell Bech Jensen, to replace the departed Ricky Kling.

Luckily for the Rockets the 19-year-old Dane can't ride as he will be competing in the second semi-final of the Euro U-21 Championships, which is being staged in Sweden.

Sampford is aware of the threat at hand, and is adamant the Rockets can deliver a very different result this time around. "It's a different day; a different match."

"You only have to look at what happened on Bank Holiday Monday, when every team that ran in the daytime also lost at home."

"We'll certainly be going into this match with respect for them."

TON-DERFUL Harlow batsman Nathan Khelawon in action (s)

Duo's century joy is ton-derful!

TWO young Harlow cricketers are celebrating their maiden centuries.

Twelve-year-old Alan Jones carried his bat for 52 overs in the fourth men's team at the Shepherd Neame Essex League club, finishing on 89 not out in a total of 210.

Then he repeated this feat in a U-13s Peter Coe Cup game, scoring his maiden club century and posting 111 not out from 89 balls in a total of 182-1 in 30 overs in a victory against Epping.

Nathan Khelawon (10) scored 138 playing for Essex against Buckinghamshire in an innings which included six sixes.

He was denied breaking the county record for his age when he was run out just a single run short of the record of 139.

First team skipper Luke Heskett said: "These are incredible achievements for players so young. The pairs skills set and talent are honestly the best I have seen for a long time for players of their age. To be scoring these sorts of scores at such a young age is an amazing achievement."

He added: "Both are playing for Essex at their age groups and I predict a professional career for the pair in the future."

"All at Harlow have incredibly high hopes for the pair and expect many more scores of this calibre this season and in the future."

Town need change of luck says skip

HARLOW Town skipper Ashley Alderson was left ruing his seventh lost toss in a row as his team slumped to a four-wicket defeat after being put in to bat on a damp wicket against Basildon & Pitsea.

His counterpart, Lee Lewis, got his side off to a great start, taking four wickets in his opening spell to end with figures of 4-11.

At 20 overs Town were struggling on 30-4 and looked like they wouldn't reach 100.

Ramya Upadhyay (28) and Alderson (22) put on a 60-run partnership before Alderson was trapped lbw with the score on 84.

Upadhyay followed him two overs later caught and bowled, and Town were reeling on 107-8.

A superb late knock from Dan Farmer helped Town

Harlow Town153-9
Basildon & Pitsea ..154-6
Town lost by 4 wickets
(Essex League, division one)

reach 150.

Coming in to bat at number nine, some lusty blows – including his first six in senior cricket – saw him unbeaten on 32, with Town finishing on 153-9.

Harlow Town knew they were at least 40 runs short of a defendable target, so they had to attack and get wickets.

Farmer and Dan Calver bowled well to reduce the visitors to 50-3.

A sensible 80-run partnership between Lloyd Lambert (50 not out) and Micheal Gray (29) helped Basildon get closer to victory before Gray was run out by Upadhyay with the score on 130.

Basildon had a mini collapse with two more wickets going down and a few chances dropped.

However, Lambert kept composed to carry his bat and take Basildon to a four-wicket victory.

Alderson told the Star: "Basildon played well and batted better than us."

"Maybe if we had won the toss the result would have been different as conditions were tough."

"Our batsmen still should have performed better though and we will be looking for an improvement next week when we visit Benfleet."

● HARLOW'S second XI lost their unbeaten record in a low scoring game at Old Southendians & Southchurch.

Winning the toss was the ideal start and after bowling the opposition out for 104 in 50 overs, Townies expected another comprehensive win.

At 40-1 after eight overs they seemed on course, but complacency crept in and a batting collapse ensued which saw them all out for 84 in just 25 overs.

Darryl Pettengell top scored with 36, and earlier Jack Elston continued his push for a 1st XI place with 5-15. Simon Rowell chipped in with three wickets.

The thirds scored 109 in their defeat to Loughton. Meanwhile, the fourth team skittled hosts Old Southendians & Southchurch out for 52.

George Richardson and Daniel Dewey took four wickets each, while Kieran Gleeson hit 41 in 21 balls as Town won by eight wickets.

Naomi secures Essex County Championships gold medal

NAOMI Harryman was crowned champion in the Under 17 long jump at the Essex County Championships after a fine jump of 5.34m.

This was in addition to her silver medal in the 80metres hurdles and bronze in the combined events competition.

Not to be outdone her Harlow Athletic Club training partner, William Marklew, threw the javelin 41.78m to be crowned county champion too.

Also in the U-17 age group was Katie Templeton-Knight who achieved seventh place in the 800m final in a season's best time of 2 minutes 27.01 seconds.

In the U-13 age group, Lewis Harknett and Teale Cunningham continued to enjoy medal success.

Harknett added bronze in the 800m (2:28.9) to his 1,500m gold, while Cunningham added 100m silver in a new personal best (PB) time of 13.54s.

He had earlier won medals in the high jump and long jump.

Meanwhile, Harlow AC member Ellie Williams enjoyed personal success at the Hertfordshire County Championships, finishing seventh in the U-15 75m hurdles with a PB of 13.8 seconds.

Other Harlow members competing at the county championships but not gaining medals were Owen Harknett (U-13 800m boys, 2:46.91), Amie Whyte (U-13 800m girls, 2:42.69) and Abbie Campbell (U-15 100m girls, 13.86s).

Elsewhere, Harlow Athletic Club youngsters made the long trip up North to Manchester to compete in the junior races at the BUPA Great Manchester Run.

The races were held in the grounds of Manchester City's football ground at the Etihad Stadium.

It was very windy on the day with intermittent showers and the club athletes were running against some of the north's top young distance runners.

In the 3- to 8-year-olds 1,500m road race, Madeleine Bailey (7) finished in a well deserved seventh place out of more than 300 runners in a time of 6.15.

Madeleine was accompanied on the run by her dad Paul and just missed out on fifth place in a close sprint finish. She still has another year in this age group.

In the 11- to 13-year-olds 2.5km race Zoe Rutter (11) finished in 25th place out of 104 finishers in 11.01.

In the 13- to 15-year-olds 2.5km race Joe Bailey (14), making a brief return to road running after competing in 400m events on the track all summer, finished in 19th place in 8.32 out of 102 athletes.

Bethell marches fourth at Stortford

HARLOW Running Club's Jared Bethell was a brilliant fourth at the very tough multi-terrain Stortford 10 mile race.

Some 250 competed. Bethell clocked 1 hour, 1 minute and 17 seconds.

He was followed home by Paul Jeffrey-Read (11th) in 1:06.21 and Jamie Jephcott (19th) in 1:09.42. These three combined to win the men's team trophy.

John Tennant (52nd) was third vet 60 in 1:16.20 and 17-year-old Daniel Jephcott (55th) was first junior (U-20) in 1:17.00.

Osagie's ready to Rome after US fifth

ANDREW Osagie has returned home after hitting some top form in the Diamond League in two meetings in America.

The Harlow athlete will now head for the fifth Diamond League meeting of the season in Rome, which starts today (Thursday).

He was fifth in the Nike Prefontaine Classic 800metres race at the fourth Diamond League meeting in Oregon.

The Diamond League draws the world's best athletes, and in Orgeon these included 5,000m Olympic champion Mo Farah.

Osagie had been boosted by the absence of World Record holder and London Olympics gold medal champion David Rudisha in his race.

Olympic finalist Osagie still faced a number of world-class stars.

A total of five of the finalists from the London Olympics competed in the race, including Timothy Kitum, who picked up bronze and shares the quickest personal best time in the field of 1:42.53 with Mohammed Aman.

The race, held in blazing sunshine in Eugene, was won by Ethiopian Aman in 1 minute 44.2 seconds.

Former Burnt Mill School student Osagie clocked 1:45.62.

Osagie tweeted afterwards: "Some good scalps over here in the USA but a bit too windy for super fast times! 1:45 today, in one piece going into the big training block!"

At the start of the race, Osagie was at the back of the field before a typically strong sprint finish in the last 40 metres ensured he narrowly missed out on third by a fraction of a second. Kitum was second in a season best time of 1:45.16 and American Nick Symmonds was third in 1:45.20.

The race was shown live on the BBC Red button and online.

There was a mistake by the host American broadcaster as the athletes lined up shortly before the start and Osagie was missed out.

This meant viewers missed his trademark 'boom' gesture to the camera.

Harlow Athletic Club member Osagie has been out in the States for nearly two weeks as he competed in the meeting in New York last week when he came second behind Rudisha.

This was Osagie's third race of the Diamond League season.

● FROM a starting field of 102 players, Mick McNally and Anne Adams retained the Mixed Pairs Knockout after beating Mick Rout and Denise McGee 2-0 in the final game of the night.

Mick and Anne beat Hazel Pritchard and Dicky Foster 2-1 in the semi-final.

Mick and Denise won 2-0 against Sarah Byrne and John Cashman in their last four clash.

Losing quarter-finalists were: Aaron Stock and Jade Gifford, Jack and Sally Hood, Phil and Beryl Cox and Steve Salter and Pat Woolhead.

Rams host rugby sevens contest

FIFTEEN teams played in a closely contested U-15 Harlow sevens tournament.

Teams who largely came from Essex and Hertfordshire featured in the contest at Harlow Rugby Club.

Sides were split into groups of four with one group having three after one club, Luton, pulled out.

There was a high level of skill shown with sides passing well and playing with aggressive intent.

Harlow A team won their group before they lost 34-12 in the quarter-finals to a combined Woodford and Chingford team.

After the group stage, Harlow B went to the plate stage where they were beaten 43-5 by Thurrock in the last eight.

Thurrock later lost in the plate final to Cheshunt.

The tournament also included an U-14 side UR 7 Junior Academy Pinks, who had been picked from previous tournaments at Wellington College in Berkshire and Guildford Rugby Club in Surrey.

They went on to beat Chelmsford in an exciting final.

Lethal Loughton

● From back page

In reply, Harlow opening bowlers Andy McGarry and Luke Monger played well but could not find the breakthrough the visitors needed and the Loughton openers managed to cruised through to the total with Mo Hafeez carried on his good form, scoring 58 from only 55 balls, as the hosts reached the modest total without losing a wicket.

They reached the target in 21.3 overs. The game finished shortly after 4.30pm, a very early finish.

Harlow are still looking for their first league win despite good cup form.

"It was a bad toss to the lose but we can offer no excuses but congratulate Loughton for an excellent display. We have to improve and improve quickly and our players need to start performing better," said Heskett.

Deadly Davis strikes again to conclude super season

THREE young Harlow football teams are basking in the warm glow of success after scooping silverware.

ALEMITE YOUTH U-12 Reds claimed the Division One League Cup by beating Bengoe Tigers 3-0 as they powered towards a double.

They had just won their second league title in a row, remaining unbeaten, only dropping two points and scoring 69 goals, conceding eight along the way.

It was a big achievement for the team as they had to play most of their games with no substitutes, doing manager Stuart Childs and coach Aaron Bowden proud.

The squad included Sam Butler, Joe Cuning, Joseph Chadd, Mason Wade, George Hopwood, Danny Ireland, Sam Childs, Kai Bowers, Malakai Campbell and Ben Collier.

FRONTIERS YOUTH Pumas U-15s won a thrilling penalty shoot-out to overcome Herts Signs in the Mid Herts Rural Minors League ORC Division One Cup at The Hive, Barnet.

Frontiers had finished the league season as runners-up to Signs as both won promotion and they came from behind in the cup final.

Division one top scorer Reece Davis (44 goals in 21 games) and Arkeem Gregory netting to make it 2-2 and it remained that way after extra-time.

Goalkeeper Daniel Tisseyre saved Signs' first and third penalties to help Frontiers to a 4-2 shoot-out victory.

Frontiers Pumas U-14's completed their great division two season with a 6-0 win at Hertford Town Stags with two great strikes from Josh Worby and Jack Coutts inside the first 10 minutes. It was a great team performance to secure the league title in a must win game in a closely contested division.

Pumas had their cup final two days later but could not complete the double in Barnet, losing 2-0 to Cuffley Maroons.

Manager John Worby said: "It was a fantastic effort considering we had three must-win games in six days. Unfortunately the third proved to be one too many.

"We've improved in all areas, playing the right way. I'd like to thank the team and parents for their commitment and hope we'll carry on in the right direction."

Harlow Town duo link up at Robins

TWO former Harlow Town FC players have linked up to form a new-look management team at Essex Senior League club Sawbridgeworth Town.

Marc Das, a striker at the club in the 1980s and the father of current Hawks winger Mitchell Das, was promoted to manager in place of the departing Peter Wickham.

And he has appointed former Hawks captain and fans' favourite Andy Walker as his first team coach.

Das first linked up with Walker when they played for Harlow Town in the early 1980s before they later teamed up together for Bishop's Stortford in the Ryman premier division in the 1990s.

Walker has great knowledge of the young talent coming through at Sawbridgeworth after he managed the U-18 team last season.

Das said: "I have known Andy for a long time. He is aware of the young players coming through, of who is good enough and who is not good enough."

He added: "He has a good eye for football."

Neither Das nor Walker are shrinking violets but it will not be a case of good cop, bad cop with one ranting and the other dispensing a quiet bit of advice. Both are deep thinkers on the beautiful game.

PARTNERSHIP: Sawbridgeworth boss Marc Das looks forward to working with his former Harlow Town and Bishop's Stortford team-mate Andy Walker

Das, who previously managed Saffron

Walden Town for more than eight years in the Eastern Counties League, said: "I have kicked the odd water bottle in my time. It will not be aggressive. We are looking to encourage players."

Das takes over a team whose confidence was shaken last season by injuries and the loss of forward Scott Williams to Harlow Town.

They finished 14th from 19 teams after a disastrous second half of the campaign.

Das said: "We will be competing against teams who have more funds."

"It will be a good achievement for us to come higher than seventh."

He added: "I am looking for a regular keeper. I doubt James Ring will play as he injured his shoulder again when he came back last season. I also need a striker. You can talk to players now but they then change their minds."

Das said the squad will be strengthened by the return of midfielder Harold Craston who is coming back from a knee injury and central defender Richard Longley.

Forward George Wappett will remain at the club.

Steve Pridmore will continue to be Robins reserve team boss. Julian Drake and Jamie Page will run the U-18 side.

Changing face of a football club on up

TURF WARS: The old pitch at Barrows Farm is set to be ripped up soon

THE philosophy of a football club being open up to two or three times a week to the public will be changed when the Hawks get their 3G artificial pitch up and running.

Traditionally, football clubs have been seen as a place for fans to go to watch their team on a Saturday afternoon and then sometimes on a midweek evening.

Hawks managing director Tom Cunningham said: "We will be open from 10am to 10pm from Monday to Sunday.

"We will be aiming to get a footfall of around 300-500 people per day. We want it to be used for 52 weeks a year."

The old pitch at Barrows Farm is set to be ripped up soon.

The new £350,000 facility will be open for July.

Cunningham said the surface could be divided up to house perhaps eight mini pitches which could be used for a five-a-side football league on Sunday evenings.

david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"We could get up to 80 people an hour using it then," he said.

Currently the complex is drastically under-used.

The Harlow & District Football League have eight cup finals there, while the West Essex & East Herts Youth Football League also stage some matches.

Cunningham is acutely aware that the club is also under-used by the community, not just on matchdays when attendances have dropped to 130 on average.

He said: "The intention was that when this stadium opened that it should be used as a community site."

"At the moment people use the hall for functions and we have around 100 supporters, but that is just a fraction of a population of 82,000 [in Harlow]."

Cunningham said that Harlow Town FC also aims to relaunch its youth system with four teams playing in the West Essex & East Herts Youth Football League next season.

Former assistant manager Christian Wheeler is set to oversee this project.

However, it is not just the beautiful game that can be played on the new artificial pitch.

He said: "It could be used for touch rugby and it could also be used for American Football. Maidstone United have done this and we shall be exploring this."

Netball is another possible sport, as are army boot camp style programmes.

With Harlow Rugby Club's sought-after site at the other end of Elizabeth Way a prime area for housing, perhaps a switch to Barrows Farm would be ideal and revitalise the Rams as well?

HAWKS boss Tom Cunningham is pleased that the 3G artificial pitch will enable the Hawks to cope with their increased commitments in Ryman League division one north next season – and avoid another winter pile-up of fixtures.

Twenty-four teams, rather than 22, will be competing in the division next term which means that 46 and not 42 games have to be played by teams.

With the bad weather experienced over the last three years it has been difficult enough to complete a league campaign of 42 games.

A club like Waltham Abbey, which has poor drainage, will struggle immensely with an extra four games, particularly if the weather is capricious and there are endless postponements.

Cunningham said: "Other sides might struggle with getting the games in. Only severe frost could stop a game. The pitch will help us."

He added: "With 3G you do have to maintain it to keep it. If you do not, you would have to then replace it and it will not last the 10-15 years that is expected."

The first game on the new pitch is set to be on Sunday July 28 and will be organised by Harlow 5 Aid and will be between a Harlow Police team and a celebrity side.

This event will support five charities including The Shakoof Memorial Fund in memory of Dr Sabah Usmani and her five children who died in a house fire in Barn Mead in October.

3G gamble can pay dividends for HTFC

DAVID RIMMER

david.rimmer@hertssexnews.co.uk

FAR from being discouraged by dwindling attendances and the Hawks' poor form on the pitch, the Harlow Town Football Club management team have stumped up £350,000 of their own money to pay for the new plastic surface which they hope will transform fortunes.

Tom Cunningham and co-owner John Barnett are investing the six-figure sum in the biggest gamble since taking over at the Barrows Farm club in February 2010.

Building work is set to start imminently as the old grass surface is ripped up and replaced by a state-of-the-art 3G artificial surface which the club hopes will enable the facility to be used for five-a-side soccer leagues and many more uses to tap into some much-needed revenue.

Cunningham and Barnett's company Platinum Sports Management took over with the club dangerously close to liquidation.

After two flirtations with promotion in 2010-11 and 2011-12 from Ryman League division one north, the club took a backward step playing wise last term.

New cash is desperately needed to brig in a host of players for a crack at promotion next season.

The aim is that the artificial pitch will be laid in time for the 2013-14 season.

Harlow will hire out the pitch to various local sporting groups and they aim to make more use of the Barrows Farm site as an income-creating vehicle.

Cunningham, the club's managing director and Barnett, the chairman, have been inspired by the example of Ryman premier division side Maidstone United.

They installed a pitch last summer and have let the stadium out to the community.

Cunningham, pictured right, said: "We aim to try and emulate Maidstone. They have got a lot of people using their pitch and they had average gates of more than 1,500. They got promotion too."

"The cost [£350,000] is being financed by our company Platinum Sports Management."

He added: "A lot of the cost is the carpet [pitch] and it will be in line with FA and Ryman requirements."

"I think it will impact [improve] on our attendances. People will be made aware of the site."

Cunningham stressed the importance of the project.

"It costs around £90,000 to run the stadium yearly and that is without paying any wages. In three years' time we have to pay a rent to the Sports Trust," he said.

"At the moment there is a gap between our stadium and the level [much lower] we are playing at. We aim to bridge that gap."

He added: "We want to create a club that is consistent and sustainable."

Cunningham refused to comment on how much income they hope to get but the long term aims are clear.

He said: "The budget depends on how we go with the people coming in to use the stadium. Hopefully it can all come together. The intention is to get a side going for promotion."

"We want also to have an academy and a youth team structure."

The club's long term prospects depend heavily on this project. Cunningham said planning permission for car boot sales and Sunday markets had been obtained but these schemes had not got off the ground.

Lethal leaders Loughton leave Harlow humiliated

Harlow 105
Loughton 106-0
Shepherd Neame Essex League, div one

LOUGHTON consolidated their position at the top of the table with a comprehensive thrashing of Harlow at The Uplands.

Winning the toss, captain Hafiz put Luke Heskett's men in to bat on a damp wicket.

Harlow's Rizwan Sadiq was making his first return to this ground since his departure from the club two years ago.

His was the fourth wicket to fall, superbly caught by Misem Zaidi diving forward at mid wicket.

Harlow were reduced to 53-7 and only Sadiq (17) and Anthony Webb (10) made double figures out of the top order.

A combination of a difficult pitch, excellent fast bowling and poor shot selection lead to the slump.

A 33-run partnership for the eighth wicket was all that saved Harlow from total capitulation.

But skipper Heskett (31) and Ryan Jessey (21) were both dismissed by spinner Bilal Butt who polished off the Harlow innings, taking four wickets as the visitors were dismissed for just 105 from 33.3 overs.

Syed Zaidi also took three wickets for the hosts.

Oracle the prophets of boom at Arsenal

HARLOW-based football team Oracle Components FC achieved most footballer's dream when they got to play at one of the most famous Barclays Premier League grounds in the country.

The Hertford & District League outfit won the inaugural Emirates Time Out Cup, played at the home of Arsenal FC.

Oracle beat more than a thousand other entries to secure their place in the Emirates Time Out Cup and played on the pitch at Emirates Stadium against three other amateur teams.

Staged at Arsenal's iconic home ground in London, the tournament was the once in a lifetime prize offered to amateur 11-a-side teams in a competition run by Emirates and Time Out magazine.

TOP GUNS: Oracle after their contest win at Arsenal FC

Three teams were selected from over a thousand entries – Oracle, North Acton FC and Flitwick Gooners FC – with the line-up completed by a team from Time Out magazine. As part of the prize, the teams were given exclusive access to all areas at Emirates Stadium, coaching from FA coaches as well as post-match hospitality. Having won all of their qualifying matches, Oracle beat North Acton in the final. FA official David Jarrett presented them with the Emirates Time Out Cup. They also won an Emirates hospitality box for an Arsenal home game next season.

Lee Hattersley, captain of Oracle, said: "We love our football and play every weekend in the premier division of the Hertford & District ORC Sports Mercury Football League. When we found out we'd won the competition we genuinely couldn't believe it. A few of us have been to Emirates Stadium before to watch a game but to play on the pitch and be crowned winners today was unreal."

"We've had a fantastic day and can't wait to show the trophy off at home as well as coming back in style to watch the pros in action from our own hospitality box!"
